UNM Faculty Members to Meet With Corporation Employees Monday Evening

Faculty representatives from the University of New Mexico will be prepared to answer questions put to them by prospective evening school students when Sandians gather at the Coronado Club at 7:30 p.m. Monday for an informal meeting with faculty members. Invited to attend are all those who would like to further their education by taking credit or non-credit work at the University this fall.

Seek Information

In order to determine whether or not the needs of Sandians are being met in the technical courses offered by the University it is requested that those interested in technical courses fill out the form on Page 6 and bring it with them to the meeting. This is NOT a registration form but merely an information questionnaire to be used in planning future courses.

Last week's Sandia Bulletin listed the principal courses being offered this fall which are of interest to Sandia employees. A limited number of Community Evening College bulletins is available at the Employee Services Department, Bldg. 301, giving a complete list of courses with brief descriptions of each.

Registration Sept. 19

Registration for the fall term will be held Saturday, Sept. 19, and classes start the following Monday. Those who register for less than seven hours of credit courses will pay $12 per semester hour. Fees for non-credit courses range from $7 to $20 per course.

The meeting Monday evening will begin as a group meeting for all THOSE FOUR MERRY gentlemen and their accompanist brightened the 1310 department party August 28, a dinner-dance evening of fun at the Coronado Club. L to R they are Fred Kröll, 1312; Ken Roebuck, 1313; Randy Parsons, 1312, and Ken Pope, 1312, with Terry Riggins, 1263, at the keyboard. J. J. Michnovicz, 2462, entertained with accordion selections, and the group heard briefly from Donald A. Quarles and L. A. Hopkins, 1300. Dolores Kaspar, 4222 (1310), was in charge of general arrangements and Randy headed the entertainment program.

"Hit the Mark . . ."

Soon now you'll be seeing the Sandia slogan for the 1953 Community Chest Drive:

HIT THE MARK FOR '53

Conceived by the Red Feather Committee for Publicity, headed by Ken Erickson, the slogan will be used to help spark Sandia employees to what is hoped will be a new goal for this campaign.

The Albuquerque Community Chest budget for the next year is up 19 per cent over 1953 — it has increased from $230,000 to $274,800.

Since our increase in number of employees is not as large as the increase in Albuquerque's budget the giving of individuals must be greater if we are to stay abreast the 19% budget boost.

Do your part to help "Hit The Mark for '53."

prospective evening college students, and will then be split up into groups interested in technical and non-technical courses and those interested in non-credit courses. The groups will be further sub-divided if interest warrants.

Standard Meter Bar Maker Speaks To ASTE Chapter

Sandia engineers and technicians will have the opportunity to confer with the president of a Swiss firm famous for its production of the International Meter Bar.

Fred Maurice, head of Genevoise D'Instrumente de Physique, will be in the conference room of Bldg. 800 Sept. 21, available for discussion and consultation on metering problems.

Dinner Meeting

The evening of Sept. 21 Mr. Maurice will speak to the Albuquerque Chapter of the American Society of Tool Engineers at a dinner meeting in Leonard's Restaurant. His subject will be "Calibration of the International Meter Bar." He will relate how his firm produced this device which is the standard for measuring instruments the world over.

Other Guests

Dinner will be served at 7 p.m. and the speaking program will start at 8:15. Others in Mr. Maurice's party will be Tom Roudel, president of the American SIP Corp.; J. B. Riley, sales manager, SIP Corp.; and Ivan Wierman, sales representative of the Harron, Rikard, McCone Co. of Los Angeles.

Sandians who are interested in attending the meeting are asked to make reservations with Hubert R. Hanen, 2531, ext. 26141, or Harold P. Baecker, 2531, ext. 26142.

Conservation for Defense Subject of Speech by Sandian

J. R. Townsend, Director of Materials and Standards Engineering organization of Sandia Corporation, will speak to the Twelfth District Masonic Institute when it meets in Albuquerque, Sunday, Sept. 20, at 1:15. "Conservation for Defense" is the title Mr. Townsend has chosen for his talk which will tell of today's problems with materials and their utilization in defense work.

Mr. Townsend came to Sandia Corporation last December from Bell Telephone Laboratories where he was Director of Materials Applications Engineering. He has served as a consultant on materials conservation to the Director of Defense Mobilization.

An Omission

Inadvertently, a printer's error in our last issue went undetected by the proof reader, resulting in a vital phrase being omitted from the farewell message of Sandia Corporation's departing President Donald A. Quarles.

Mr. Quarles said that he was leaving September 1 to take up his new duties with the Department of Defense, and the message continued:

"As I do so many thoughts of this most stimulating experience crowd into my mind—thoughts of our splendid Sandia Laboratory team and of the cause we have been dedicated to; thoughts of our military associates and the fine cooperation we enjoy; thoughts of our AEC and Los Alamos friends; of all the fine people in Albuquerque who have shown us such warm hospitality; and all of this in surroundings that we have found most delightful."

Our error was in omitting the phrase: "thoughts of our military associates and the fine cooperation we enjoy."

Much of the success of Sandia Corporation may be attributed to the close and willing cooperation of the armed forces team associated with us in our mission. It is deeply regretted that this error occurred.

Use Your Arm for Signaling Turns While on Base

Autumn is just around the corner and the days are getting shorter.

This is good news for those of us who love the Indian Summer, but the Military Police are viewing the shortened daylight hours with some concern.

At the morning and evening rush hours, drivers who insist on using electro-mechanical turn indicators place a strain on the eyes as well as the patience of the MPs. In addition to the fact that the blinking lights are hard for the MPs to spot, they indicate the driver's intention only to the car immediately behind him and give no clue to the other cars in the same line.

As a matter of courtesy and in the interest of driving safety, all drivers are urged to use definite hand signals rather than relying on the turn indicator lights.

Two Sessions for Square Dancers at Club This Month

Coronado Club square dancers will have two evenings this month for whirlin' and stompin'.

Tonight is the first get-together—music by the Duke City Cowboys starts at 8 p.m. Callers will be Jon Tuthill and Bill Stalcup of the Albuquerque Square Dancers Callers Group. The dance is free for club members and guest fee is $1.

The second session will be Friday, Sept. 25, with canned music. On hand will be one of Albuquerque's finest callers who will give instructions. Members free, visitors pay $1. Anyone interested in learning to call square dances or wishing to brush up on their technique will find this a fine opportunity to do so.

John Wamser First Speaker in Fall Series Given at University by ASME

Launching the fall series of meetings for the American Society of Mechanical Engineers will be John Wamser's talk Sept. 16, scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in Room 3 of the Mechanical Engineering building at the University of New Mexico.

John Wamser

Mr. Wamser will discuss "Structural Design Problems in Naval Aircraft Design," drawing on his extensive experience with the Bureau of Aeronautics in Washington, D.C. Before joining Sandia Corporation last February he headed the Loads Research Group for the bureau.

He will explain the method used by the Bureau of Aeronautics in handling design criteria in the development of new aircraft, how these criteria are applied, and the kinds of tests to prove operational suitability of naval aircraft. Mr. Wamser, who is assigned to 1200, is a former instructor in the graduate engineering school of Catholic University, Washington, and holds a degree of Bachelor of Aeronautical Engineering from the University of Detroit.

The ASME group, now a sub-section, will enter a drive this fall to become a permanent section. Newly elected officers of the organization include Richard A. Bice, 1260, chairman; Vernon Field, 1263, secretary; Lee Tolliver, 1644, vice-chairman; C. H. DeSelm, 1310, membership

Savings Opportunities - For the Asking

The story is told of the frugal woman who never threw away anything, and collected everything others abandoned, neatly labeling the containers. One was marked "Pieces of string—too short to use."

Well, that's carrying thrift to extremes, but the point is, she was thrift conscious, a virtue that is all too uncommon these days.

Thrift, like so many other habits, does not come easily to some of us, especially in these days of high living costs. Practicing self-discipline helps because we must form the habit of saving, but there are thrift opportunities for all of us which are painless and automatic, as long as we stick to a written agreement.

What are these opportunities? Why, they are the employee services and benefits offered to all of us through automatic payroll deductions including:

1. Buying U. S. Savings Bonds
2. Investing in the Credit Union
3. Participation in the Retirement Plan
4. Buying personal life insurance

All but one of these are entirely optional (participation in the retirement plan being compulsory for most employees, after one year of employment), yet relatively few of us take advantage of them. Only about 10 per cent are buying bonds, nearly 24 per cent are members of the Credit Union and three per cent are buying insurance by payroll deduction.

By setting the goal and sticking to the plan we select to reach that goal we can all make our futures brighter, more secure. Here are the extensions to call for further information on saving through payroll deductions:

U. S. Savings Bonds, Div. 3221, ext. 24154
Credit Union, Div. 3122, ext. 28263
Retirement Plan, Div. 3125, ext. 26151
Life Insurance Counseling ext. 29261

the way we heard it

Swimming Pool to Close Sunday

The swimming pool at the Coronado Club will close for the season at the end of the day Sunday, winding up a summer during which more members and guests have made use of the plunge than in any previous year of operation. Next summer the Base will boast three pools, with the new Officers' Club pool completed. The Coronado Club board of directors have been investigating the possibility of enlarging our pool but so far no economical solution has been found.

Our Favorite Time of Year

Fall is an exciting and invigorating time of the year. The weather is cooler, the grass doesn't have to be cut so often, the garden we fretted over all summer is yielding a satisfying harvest, and the kids are back in school. In the mountains the aspens are beginning to turn bright yellow, and on the farms exhibits are being readied for the State Fair.

There may be time to take in the big circus or a football game, and the World Series will be blaring from every radio. Yes, it's great to be alive and nice indeed to be here in the Land of Enchantment.

What's all this leading up to? Well, just a reminder that when you buy a Red Feather to support the Community Chest next month you are buying insurance that all this cherished Americana will continue.

Company News

Charlie Campbell, 1900, bought a new station wagon and has been trying to sell his old Packard but he says the only bid he received was from the Smithsonian Institute . . . Howard (Howie) Smyth, Sr., 2140, has left Sandia to accept a position with the Western Electric Company at the Lawrence, Mass., plant . . . The Chamber of Commerce held a testimonial dinner for departing President Donald A. Quarles.

Booklet Aids to Homework and Headaches

Parents of school age children will find the recent booklet, "Our Constitution," helpful in explaining one of the most important documents in our country's past and present. The supply is nearly gone, so hurry to the nearest booklet rack.

This week's selection, "How to Keep Your Head From Splitting," has some surprising information on the various varieties of headaches, causes and cures. Right now a lot of people are wishing the book included a section on how to avoid sore throats.

Unfortunately there doesn't seem to be too much that can be done, prevention-wise, if the prevalence of the malady is any indication. But the Medical Department recommends a warm salt-water gargle to ease the discomfort, and see your doctor if fever or other complications develop.

Evelyn Chenot, 2224, returned last week from Midland, Texas, where she had visited her brother, and Delia Stites, 2222-2, and her husband spent the Labor Day weekend fishing at Red River.

The H. W. Maglidt family spent their vacation motoring back to their home state of Maryland to visit relatives and to enjoy some of "the prettiest scenery in the U. S. A." Mr. Maglidt, 1920, reported. Elsie Willis, 1920, went to Gardena, Calif., to visit relatives recently, taking side trips to the Knott Berry Farm and the mountains above Burbank; L. M. Jercinovic, 1923, and his family had a recent holiday in San Diego where they visited relatives and took a few dips in the blue Pacific.

The monthly birthday party for 2223 honored these Sandians recently: Mark Webster, Ramon C. Garcia, Howard C. Carmody, Ernest Tavasci, Julian Perea and Preme Ulibarri. The cakes and decorations were in charge of Dorothy Washburn and Ruth Youngberg.

Frank Duggin's touchdown passes to John Foster and Pete Gallegos got the Sandia Employee's touch football team off to a good start for the 1953 pigskin season as the Sandia gridders outscored the 3rd TAC Air Force team 12-6 on Tuesday, Sept. 1.

Initiate Field

The Sandia-3rd TAC game was the first one played on the new football field west of the Sandia baseball diamond.

First score of the game came early in the first period when Duggin hit Foster on the five yard line with a 15-yard pass and Foster scampered over the goal for the tally. The 3rd TAC came back in the second quarter to tie the score with the help of a couple of penalties and a short pass in the end zone. The final marker in the game came in the 4th period when the Sandia Employees pushed the ball deep in 3rd TAC's territory and scored on Duggin's pass to Gallegos.

Tex Beneke Dance Promises to Pack 'Em in—Make Your Reservations Now

Advance reservations indicate a near record turnout for the informal dance at the Coronado Club tomorrow night when Tex Beneke and his band will entertain from 9 to 1. As we go to press reservations are still being taken but members must come to the Club and purchase tickets at the time reservations are made. The fee is $2 per person for members and $3 for guests.

Old Glenn Miller Band

Beneke's musical fare is guaranteed to delight young and old, as his smooth rhythm combines the techniques of the old masters of the Paul Whiteman era and the current bop artists. The band is billed as the original Glenn Miller orchestra.

Tex has maintained his predecessor's national popularity for the past five years as baton master of the group and has been sending the fans with his saxophone since the orchestra was first formed in 1938.

In order to accommodate the maximum number of dancers the ballroom furniture will be removed and only a single row of tables placed around the floor. Weather permitting, tables will be placed on the patio for those who prefer to listen to the music under the stars.

Dance Next Weekend

The fall social season, kicked off by the dance tomorrow night, gathers speed next weekend with an informal dance Saturday night to the music of Sol Chavez' orchestra, and a special Sunday buffet program featuring a fashion show and dinner music by the Rita Nicklas string ensemble. Dancing will continue until 11 p.m. to the music of the MBC trio.

In addition to the duplicate bridge sessions scheduled for September 17 and 24, a ladies' afternoon bridge and canasta party is planned for September 23 from 1:15 to 4 p.m. A family night program on Tuesday, Sept. 22, is sure to please parents and kiddies, also.

Fashions for Fall

Mark this on your calendar for September 20: the Coronado Club's fall fashion review, 7 p.m., following the regular Sunday Night Buffet Supper. E. H. Draper will be the commentator and the Rita Nicklas Trio will offer background music. June Moore is heading the arrangements for the event which will feature styles from Kleiner's.

FASHION SHOW coordinator June Moore, 4222 (1900), discusses with Norma Kleiner which in this array of costume jewelry to feature in the Coronado Club Show.

BILLIE COTTER wears a seafoam green brocade with embroidered seed pearl motif on hip and bodice — the material and trim reminiscent of grandmother's day but the height of fashion in '53.

A MOST ATTRACTIVE model and a most attractive costume—Beverly Osler in this deep purple velvet cocktail dress. It is cut with redingote effect and trimmed in contrasting light lavender nylon tulle.

THIS FULL length dramatic brocade formal features a scoop neckline with mink trim. Barbara Holloway's stately modeling of this beige and brown evening dress will be a highlight of the fashion parade.

ANN MORROW will be featured in the new trumpet silhouette—a slim black velvet sheath with flaring black and white striped taffeta skirt and matching stole. Notice the rhinestone bracelet worn high on the arm.

Life Insurance Counseling Help Doubles This Year

Questions brought to Sandia Corporation's Insurance Counseling Service have more than doubled in the past year. The daily average has increased from 5 to 12 interviews and mailed-in questions.

Sandia's Counseling Service is located in Employees Services Building, T-301.

The problems met by the Counseling Service from day to day include questions of procedures on insurance claims, proper designation of beneficiaries, selection of settlement options and many others.

Included in the Counseling Service is advice on the proper coordination of the individual's life insurance program with the benefits available to employees under Sandia Corporation's Employee Group Life Insurance Plan and the Federal Social Security Act.

Working on the principle that the average person needs insurance advice much the same as he needs legal advice, the service is being found of great value by many employees.

Appointments may be made with the office by telephoning ext. 29261.

Sandians find peace and quiet
In the mellow beauty of their

Mountain Paradise

RIGHT IN THE heart of the Land of Enchantment lies sunny Placitas. Vi Amador, who commutes daily to her job with Sandia Corporation, stands in the doorway of the quaint little post office which her family has managed for several years.

"We wouldn't live anywhere else!" So say the Sandians who have chosen to make their homes in Placitas.

Cradled on the north lap of the Sandia Mountains, directly east of Bernalillo, lies this snug little community of adobe homes.

Historical Deeds

Only recently was the village "discovered" by the newest residents. Their property deeds read like a history of New Mexico. Many of the abstracts trace the land back to an original grant from the King of Spain.

Owner of a mellowed, quaint and colorful adobe home is 1263's Joseph Muench who lives with his artist wife, Cecily, and their 10-year-old daughter, Linda, in the heart of the village. Often their tree-filled front yard is crowded with artists who come to sketch the picturesque hillsides or capture on canvas the enchanting horizon at sunset.

"Hub" Home

Another Sandian who is very much at home in the mountain neighborhood is Vi Amador, 4222 (5310). Vi's father came from Santa Fe years ago, one of the first "outsiders" to purchase property in this restful place. Vi and her brothers and sisters have grown up in Placitas and their home has become a sort of hub for the cluster of dwellings.

The official U. S. Post Office is housed at the Amador's place, located on state Highway 44 as it winds toward the mountains. Vi knows the history of Placitas well and she has taken minutes at many of the community gatherings.

A newcomer to Placitas is Richard Bowerman, 2223, who bought his tract only four months ago. He is literally tearing apart and putting together again a little adobe home that will be "just the way I want it!"

Top to Bottom

Assisted by Sammy Amador, Vi's 16-year-old brother, Dick is renovating his place from the ceiling to the floor. He'll hew to the line for authentic construction and decoration on this three-room Spanish home — and doing so he'll have a fine, comfortable haven with a minimum outlay of money.

His home is situated on a prominent knoll west of the main network of winding streets and the scenery is spectacular, anywhere you look.

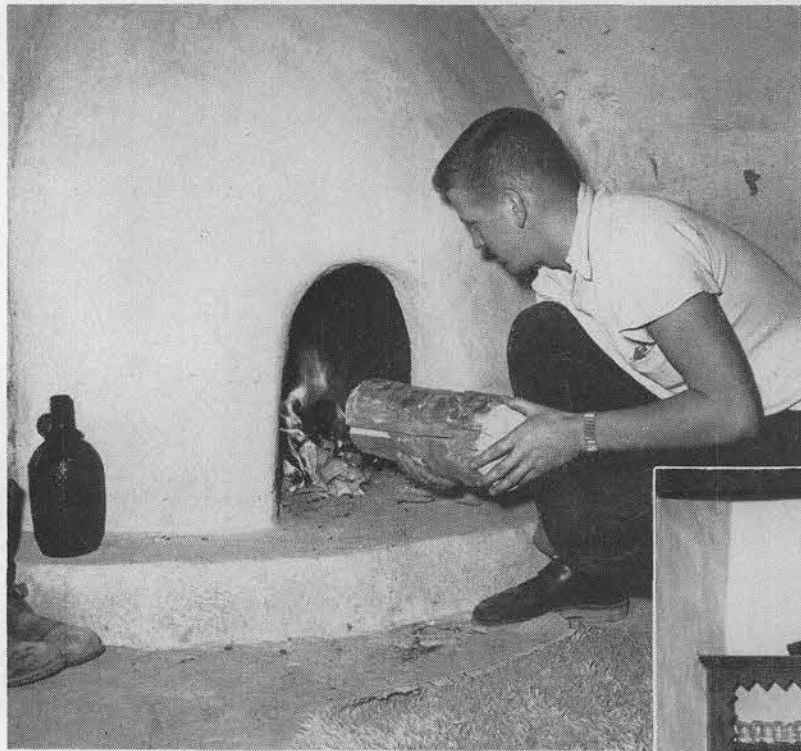

Another Placitas home-with-a-view belongs to David Berry, 1641-5. Here again the reason for settling in a far corner of the village was its remote peacefulness and "no one to bother you." When he isn't building on his own place or helping a friend build his, David paints. He enjoys living away from the city's hustle. Completed, the Berry home will include a long studio-living room, a large bath and a roomy utility room.

Wide, Open Spaces

The Frank Snyders with four youngsters are at home and then some on a slope in the eastern section of Placitas. They have several acres of ground where the family "can spread out," as Frank puts it. Soon 14-year-old Judy will have a horse of her own, pastured, of course, right out in the big rolling back yard.

The Snyders are a-building on their place, too. Everyone, even little Rickey, gets a fist in the mud plastering. "You could never get us back to the city" — Mrs. Snyder means it. Their view, their sunsets, the fresh mountain climate, the spreading play yard, offset not having some of the city conveniences. Frank works in 2335-2 and the hour's drive to Sandia Base and back doesn't detract a bit from living at Placitas.

"You should come up some night and watch the lights of the cars as they come out of the Jemez there in the west," he points out. "It's a wonderful sight."

RICHARD BOWERMAN hand plastered this adobe fireplace and it'll be the focal point of his living room when his home is completed. Dick is finding that building his home from the earth is no small job, but to him it has become a fascinating challenge.

THE JOSEPH MUENCH family lives in an attractive adobe home in Placitas, often the headquarters for fellow artists who come to sketch surrounding "Land of Enchantment" landscape.

LAND, LOTS OF LAND — and dotted with cedars and orchards — is the view from David Berry's studio-home in the mountain village.

IT'S HORIZON UNLIMITED for the Frank Snyder family at their home in Placitas. Looking west toward the Jemez Mountains from their hillside home is favorite fun for the Snyders, especially in late evening when the children count auto lights trickling down a far-off highway.

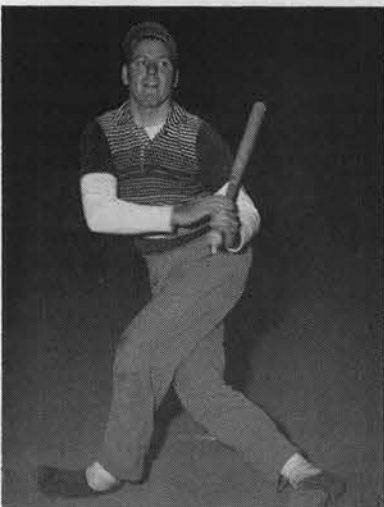

"Take Me Out to the Ball Game"

"HOORAY FOR OUR TEAM"—Enthusiastic rooters are found all summer long at the Sandia Corporation employees softball games. Dick Heim, Employee Services, reports that 194 games were played during the past season by the 15 teams in the leagues. Each team provided its faithful followers with many hours of excitement and fun. The regular season has ended—the post-season tournament is just about over, but to fans such as these the memory will linger for some time.

SAFE AT THIRD—George Duffield, Braves' infielder, arrives safely at third as the peg comes late to Yankee third sacker, Vince Melillo. The Braves won the game 11-1.

NEAR MISS—Harold Cushman, playing manager of the Braves, "A" League champs of the Sandia Employees Softball Association, takes a lusty swing at the ball in a recent game with the Yankees.

Braves and Cubs Win Pennants; Indians Drop 2

Two close victories over the Indians cinched the "A" League pennant for the Braves while the Cubs sewed up the "B" League championship by defeating the Redlegs and the Phillies.

A sixth inning home run by Braves outfielder John Hart with a man on base gave the Braves the runs they needed to edge the Indians 3-2 in the teams' first encounter. A pitchers' battle throughout, each team garnered only 3 hits apiece. Cliff Rudy, losing pitcher for the Indians, struck out 10 Braves' batters.

Two nights later, the Braves had to go into extra innings to slip by the Indians by a one-run margin again, this time by a score of 8-7. Nick Pavlotich hit a single in the top half of the ninth to drive in the winning run. Both pitchers, Thomas of the Braves and Rudy of the Indians, clouted homers during the game.

Two additional victories by the Braves over the White Sox and the Yankees gave the Braves an unbeaten season record of 14 wins and no losses. In the latter game, Hal Thomas pitched a no-hitter. Such a record makes the Braves the odds-on favorites to win the post-season tournament now taking place.

Softball Tourney Quarterfinals to Be Played Tonight

Sandia Employees softball tournament moves into the quarterfinals tonight after the 14 teams entered in the tournament got off to a flying start on Wednesday.

Pairings for the first round of the tourney were as follows: Dodgers vs. Athletics, Red Sox vs. Yankees, White Sox vs. Redlegs, Cardinals vs. the Phillies, Indians vs. Senators, and Pirates vs. Browns.

The Braves and the Cubs, pennant winners of the "A" and "B" leagues respectively, drew first round byes.

The semi-finals will be played Monday evening on Diamonds "C" and "B" at 7:30 and the finals are scheduled for Wednesday evening, Sept. 16, on Diamond "B" at 7:30.

This post-season tourney, sponsored by the Sandia Employees Softball Association, will wind up the 1953 softball season. Trophies for the winning teams of each league and tourney champs will be presented at the softball party which will be held the early part of October.

Sympathy

Sympathy is extended to B. E. Martinez, 2531-1, whose father died August 31.

Sympathy is extended to the Fred Eichert family for the recent death of Mrs. Eichert's father in Abilene, Texas. Fred works in 1641.

No job is so important and no service is so urgent that we cannot take time to perform our work safely.
